GROWTH TOWARD MATURITY

AS FIRE IS NECESSARY TO BRING THE TAPER TO LIFE, SO TOO THE SPIRITUAL, INTELLECTUAL,
EMOTIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT
OF A BALANCED CATHOLIC EDUCATION
WILL PROGRESS TOWARD MATURITY.
KNOWLEDGE DISPERSES THE SHADOWS
OF IGNORANCE AND IGNITES THE HOPE OF FUTURE PROMISE.
MATURITY IMPLIES A RECOGNITION OF GOALS, AND AN UNDERSTANDING OF HOW BEST TO ATTAIN THEM.
WE HAVE SOUGHT AN EDUCATION HERE
AT MADONNA FOR THE SAME REASON
FOR WHICH GOD CREATED US: TO KNOW, LOVE, SERVE, AND GLORIFY
HIM NOW AND FOR ETERNITY. HERE
WE ARE EDUCATED AS WOMEN, TO FULFILL A WOMAN'S ROLE IN GOD'S WORLD.
BUT MATURITY BRINGS WITH IT NO
REST FOR SOUL, HEART, OR MIND.
THE MATURE WILL BE SEARCHING EVER
FOR TRUTH, AND THEIR MINDS ARE OPEN EVER TO RECEIVE IT, THEIR HEARTS TO LOVE IT, AND THEIR SOULS TO CLASP IT FOREVER.

ADMINISTRATION

The Most Reverend James A. McNulty, D.D.
Bishop of Buffalo

OUR BISHOP

On May 1, 1963, a new chapter in the history of the Buffalo diocese began with the installation of His Excellency, James A. McNulty, D. D., as Bishop of Buffalo. Although he has been here just a year, his warmth and sincerity have already been felt throughout Western New. York.

Our Bishop was born in New York City but spent most of his life in New Jersey. There he grew up and went to school. He was graduated from Seton Hill College, and the Church, recognizing his leadership potential, sent him to the University of Louvain in Belgium to study for the priesthood.

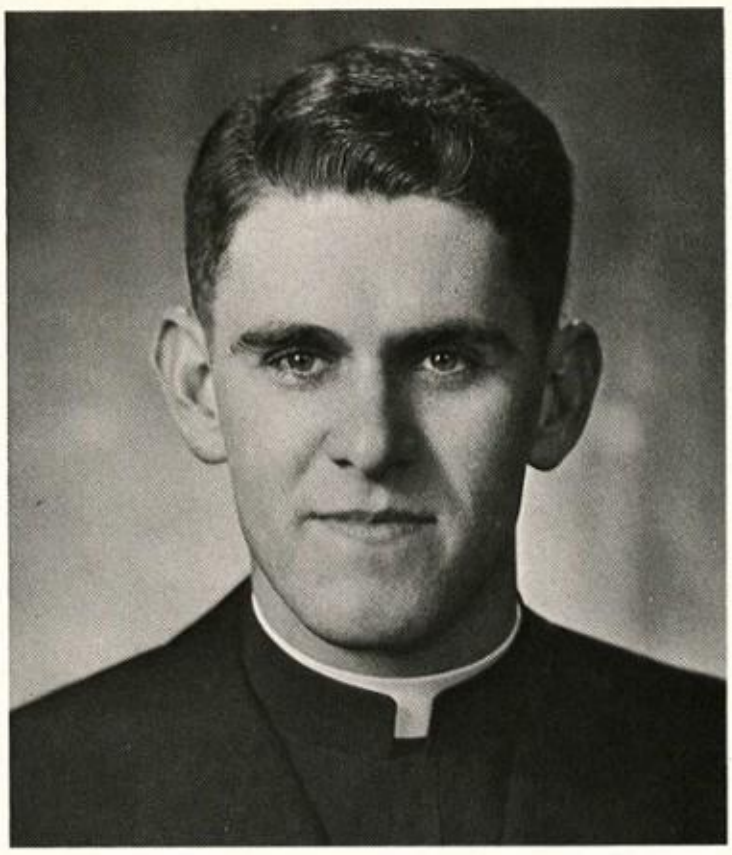
At the age of twenty-five, Bishop McNulty was ordained in Belgium. Adding to the solemnity of the occasion, his brother, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. McNulty, became a priest in the same ceremony. Our Bishop began his priestly career as assistant pastor in St. Joseph's parish, Jersey City. In 1947 he received the fullness of the priesthood, and became titular Bishop of Methone and Auxiliary Bishop of Newark.

Now stationed in Buffalo, His Excellency brings with him diverse administrative experience and deep interest and concern for all his people. We, the students and faculty of Madonna High School, join the entire diocese in greeting Bishop McNulty and in wishing him a long and fruitful Episcopate.

"THE GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF ANY STUDY YOU MAY LEARN BY BOOKS AT HOME, BUT THE DETAIL, THE COLOR, THE TONE, THE AIR, THE LIFE WHICH MAKES IT LIVE IN US, YOU MUST CATCH ALL THESE FROM THOSE IN WHOM IT LIVES ALREADY."

—John Henry Newman

Very Reverend Monsignor Leo A. Hammerl
Superintendent of Schools

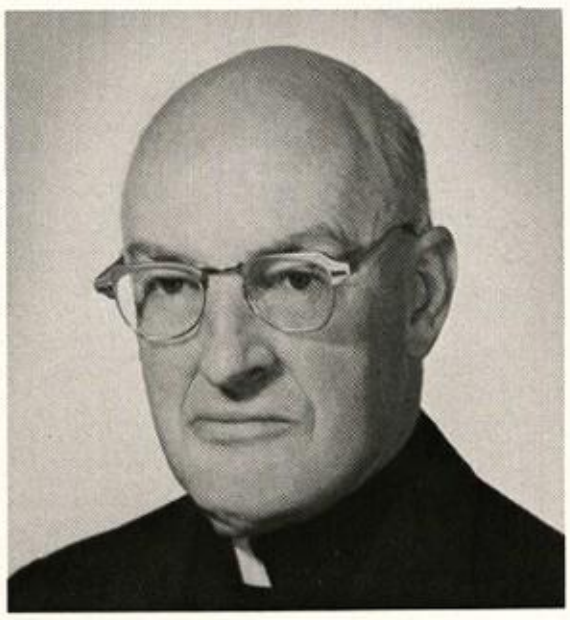


Reverand Norman J. McLaughlin
Assistant Superintendent

Mr. J. Alan Davitt
Director of Secondary Education

OUR LEADERS

These priests and lay leaders of the Diocese of Buffalo have worked zealously for the extension of Catholic education. They have as one of their most pertinent objectives the preparing of youth for the challenges they will encounter upon leaving high school. It is through the persistent wisdom and labor of these devoted men that we are sharing in all the benefits of a Catholic education at Madonna High School. To these outstanding Catholics, we extend our sincerest appreciation and encouragement to continue their efforts in this truly apostolic cause.



Reverend Bernard J. Magee
Instructor in Religion

The Reverend Alexander T. Pocetto, The Reverend John L. Birkenheurer, and the Reverend Paul Francis are among the zealous Oblates of St. Francis de Sales who are always ready to help Madonna girls in their spiritual needs.

STUDIES

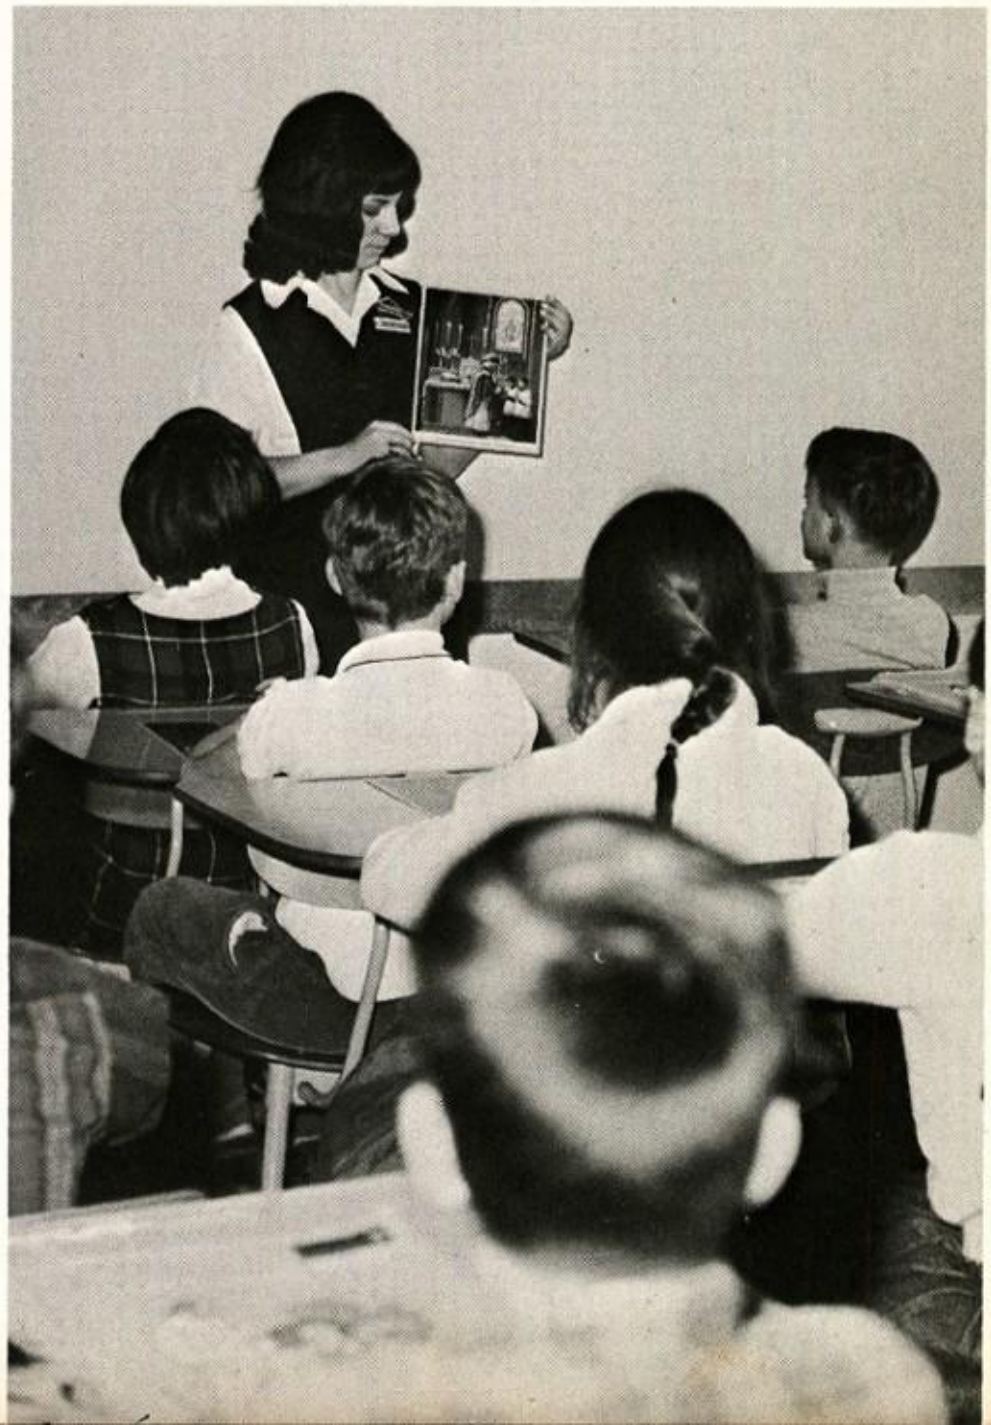
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to recognize Character, Service, Leadership and Scholarship in the high schools of our country. Members are selected because of high ideals, service to school and community, leadership potential, and intellectual achievement. This honor carries with it extraordinary responsibility to God, to Church, to country, and to school. Our senior members include: Susan Amery, Carolyn Aydelotte, Patricia Bankowski, Linda Beblo, Susan Canavan, Catherine Certo, Linda Connor (president), Gloria Critelli, Sharon D'Ambrosio, Patricia Dawson, Marna Flaherty, Cheryl Gazy, Elizabeth Grabowski, Lois Heiman, Antoinette Marino, Patricia Nicolette, Christine Olejniczak, Judith Paonessa, Maria Paonessa, Mary Sue Pellicano, Rosemary Proe, Kathleen Rutledge, Anita Splendore, Catherine Swidergal, Sharon Szabo, and Marguerite Wolf.

Retreat is a time of many graces. As our retreat masters, the Reverend Fathers Marcellus and James Anthony, C.P., leave the chapel, they will be greeted by B. Confer, V. Laka, J. Slish, and B. Kubick.

MATURE IN FAITH

Throughout our four years at Madonna, we students find ourselves evolving into fervent, God-fearing followers of Christ. We realize this transformation has been brought about by weekly attendance at Mass, reception of Holy Communion, frequent visits to the chapel, and the yearly retreat, which provides much-needed advice and untold spiritual blessings. Also an important factor in our development is the daily example of our priests, our parents, the Sisters, and our lay teachers. To them we owe a very special debt of gratitude for our precious gift of a vivid, living faith which comes to us through encouragement, love and vigilance. At Madonna we have learned to place our faith and trust in God. This love of Him will help us develop into devoted Catholic women. We have learned the art of Christian living—going to Jesus through Mary—and now we want to exemplify this art by doing God's will in all things.

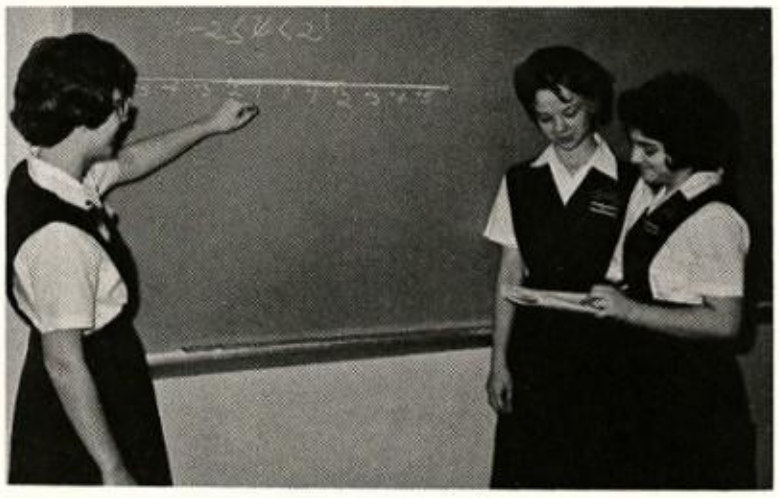


Each Tuesday finds M. DeBartels participating in the lay apostolate as she gives religious instruction to these public school children.

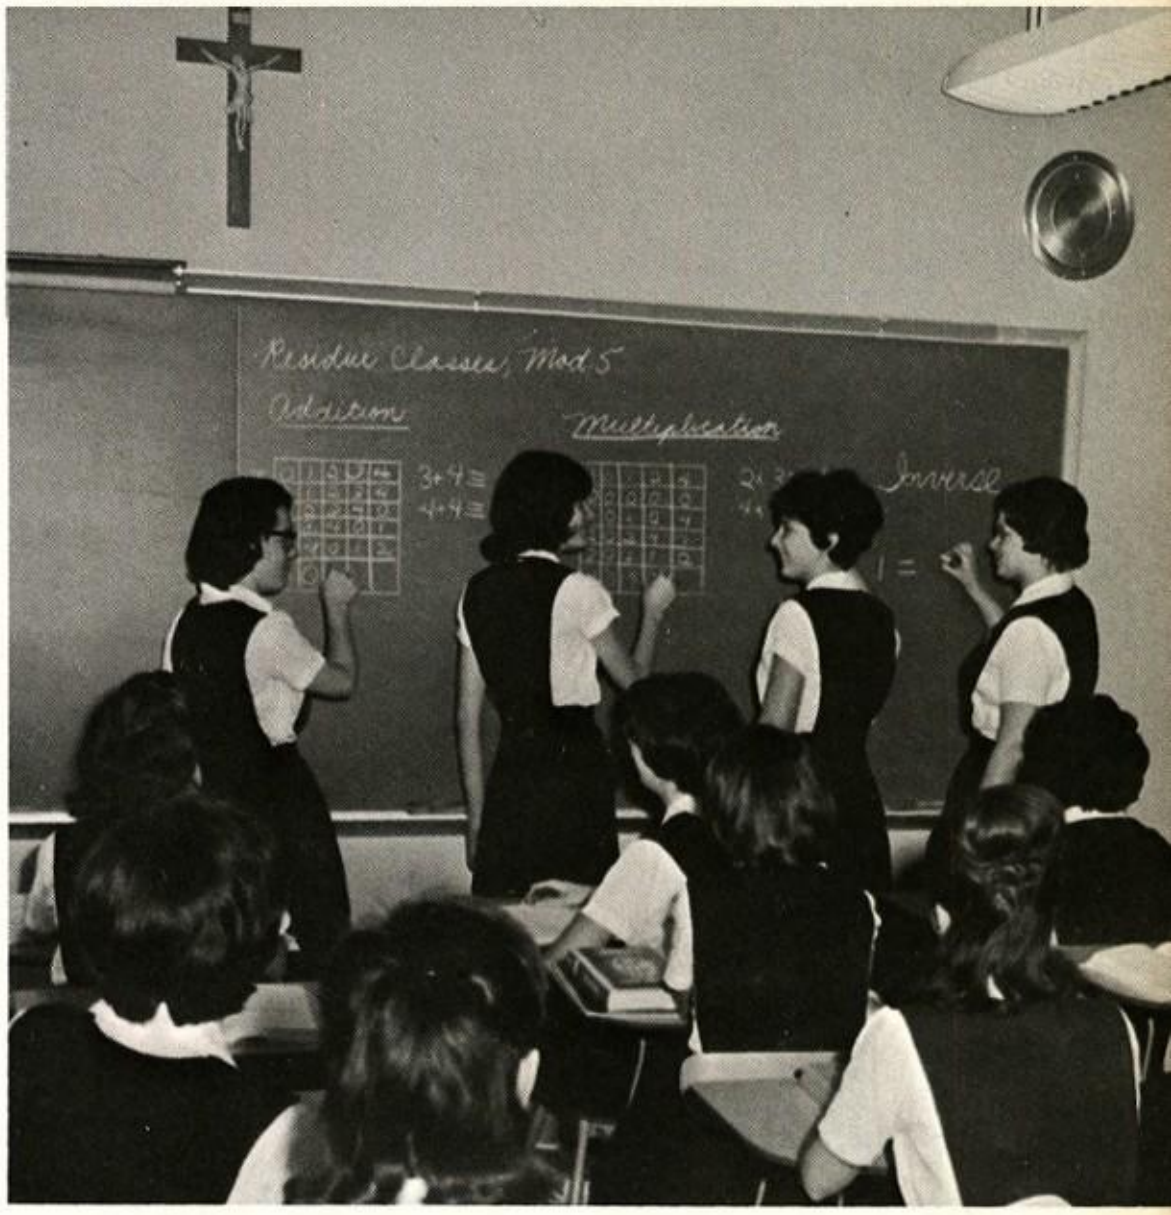
SCIENCE

To learn is to know, and to catalogue this knowledge is science. From the study of the atom to the expanding universe, science is now an integral part of everyday life. As the world has become increasingly aware of the necessity of science for social, economic and political living, so too has Madonna recognized this need for her students. For the freshman, general science is offered to give her a broad acquaintance with many fields. Biology gives the sophomore an understanding of the living world around her, while upperclassmen learn from chemistry how the components of this world operate. Each of these courses teaches not only theory but also practical applications.

The satisfied look on the faces of Madonna's renowned chemists, A. Carson, P. Donoghue, C. Yadacus, and C. White, would lead us to infer that "progress is our most important product."



M. Majchrzak proudly displays her completed graph of inequalities while K. Piwowarczyk and T. Cappella show their approval of her work.



Could it be? At last, something the Math 12 class understands! M. McMahon, B. Schreiber, B. Grazzini, and L. Heiman wear a look of accomplishment as they prove that the residue classes, mod 5, form a group.

AND MATHEMATICS

Look at all those wriggling creatures! N. Wolf, P. Fabiano, J. Capone, and E. Burns observe various slides of living algae.

Under S. Reid's direction, C. Radomski makes an incision in a cow's heart, while D. Radomski points out to the class the exact location of the human heart.

Books pave the way to interesting horizons in literature for B. Zito, S. McGrath, M. Kustich, and J. Duncan.

The effective use of descriptive phrases opens new doors to good writing for S. Lukaszonas and E. Farris of the English I class.

LANGUAGES

Through languages we are introduced to new and exciting lands; we learn of simple folk, and of famous authors, heroes, and statesmen. Through languages we learn what to say, how to say it effectively, and why. A mastery of one's own langauge is indispensible to all phases of life; a knowledge of one or more foreign languages is a necessity as world vision becomes broader and more complex.

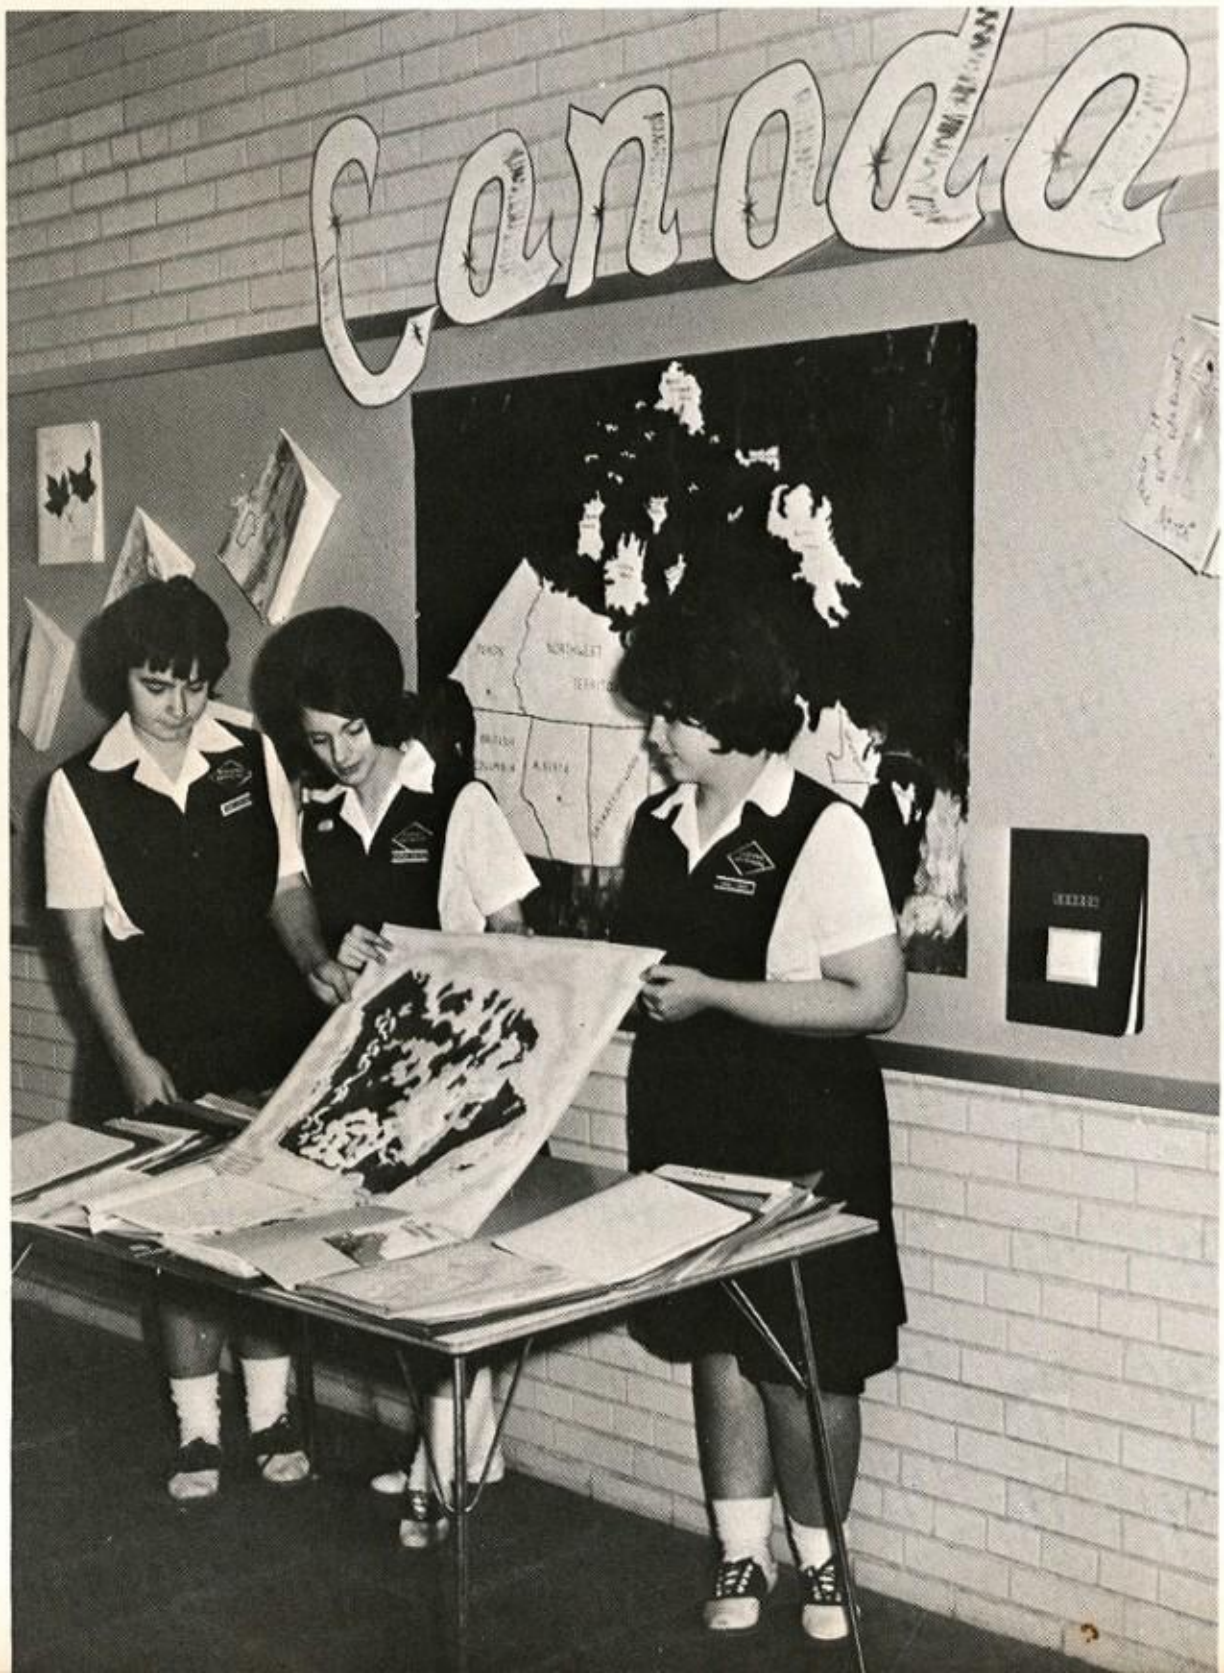
High scores on the National Latin Examination sponsored by the Auxilium Latinum merited this trophy for C. Heuer, K. Colangelo, C. Porreca, and C. Lukaszonas.

Visions of France and Gay Paree haunt the dreams of S. Netzer, P. Ciurczak, E. Caterina, and E. Edgette.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The past, the present, and a glimpse into the future are offered to us in social studies. Why is there revolution, famine, progress, depression? What are the principles of democracy? How did the twisted doctrine of Communism arise? How is the American economy run? These and all the questions a student can dream of are answered. To take a course in social studies is to embark on a fascinating educational voyage. Life takes on a new aspect as we learn about the cultures of other lands, their industrial development, their scientific progress and their needs and problems. We can understand why situations occur and even anticipate new ones which follow the pattern of the old. The modern pace demands that we be familiar with the world in which we live. It is essential to our generation to be a constant observer of world affairs—quick to lend a helping hand when possible, and alert to guard against dangers to the remarkable world we inhabit.

Open for discussion—the Civil Rights question. Recording their opinions in senior history class are M. Conan and P. Colosi.



The all-purpose room is brightened with a display of citizenship education projects on our neighbor to the north. S. Kotlarz, D. Sawicki, and S. Fitzpatrick admire the results of their labors.

M. Berrigan and E. Fermoile agree that the guillotine is frightening even in miniature as they explain its operation to the world history class.

Creative talent and nimble fingers help sew the way to success for P. Askey, C. Maloney, M. Milan, R. Biggins, G. Clark, and L. Spallino.

HOMEMAKING

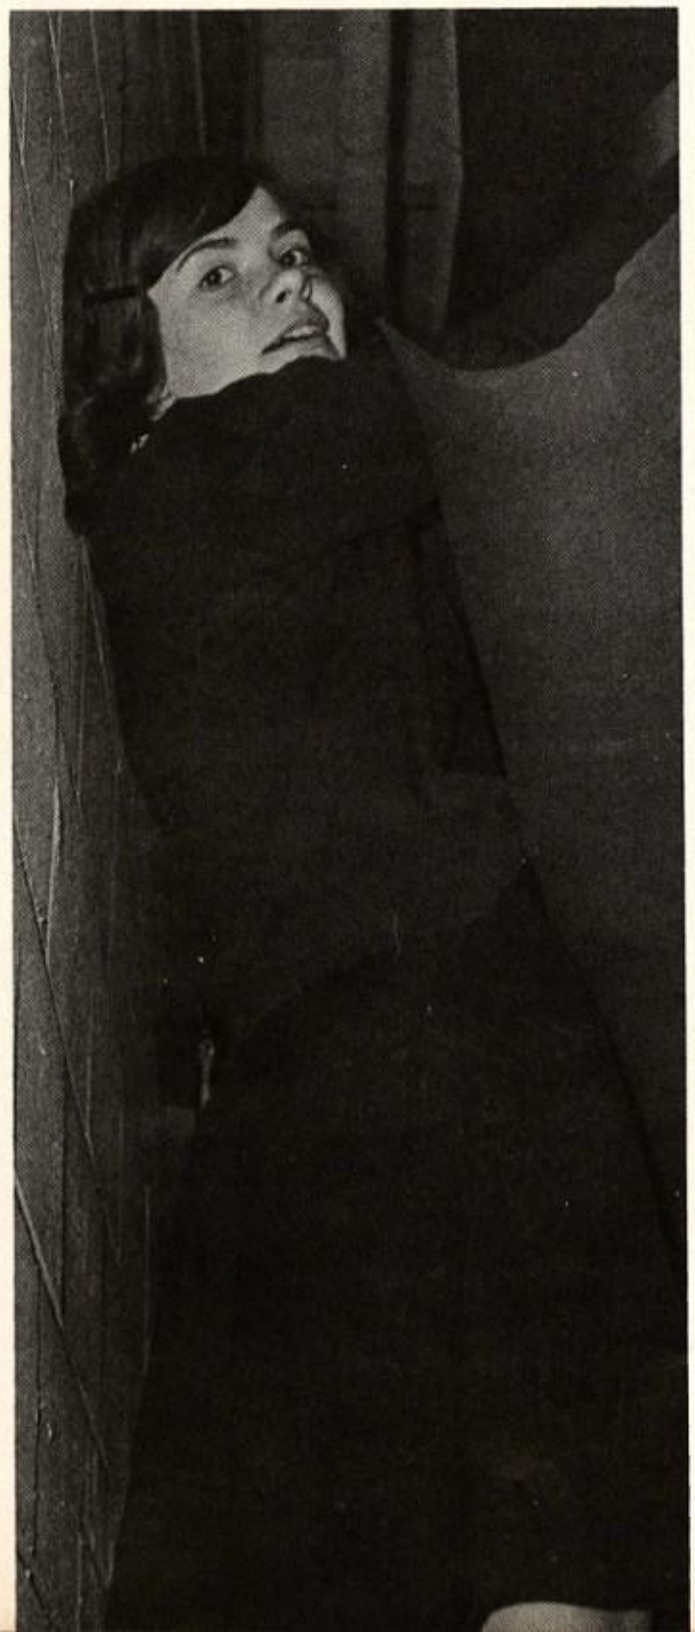
One way to a man's heart is through cooking, and C. Maloney, G. Thomas, K. Janik, T. Heagerty, M. Pellicano, M. Manarina, M. DeMartino, R. Stanek, and J. Bruno seem to have mastered the art!

Prize oil paintings below are the work of students in Mrs. Flynn's art class. Top: K. Gallagher and K. Janik. Below: M. Flynn and K. Deal.

ART

Art is found not only in a lovely painting, but in the whole world about us. A glance at the blue of the heavens, the green of the stately trees, the ruddy brown of the good earth—all these are truly artistic. Art is all of God's creation—either in its natural state or remolded by human hands. Art reflects our Creator's magnitude and generosity; it symbolizes human characteristics. Art is pure, untainted beauty, wholesome in its lines. Art has many facets: perspective, design, composition—all reflecting in some way the Eternal Beauty.

Miss Mary Cousin, our glee club director and music teacher, brings to Madonna all the beauty of the world of song.



This endurance test backstage is part of senior P. Bankowski's contribution to the success of the Capers.

NEVER A DULL MOMENT!

The career of airline stewardess will be the fascinating subject of a meeting of the Madonna Business Club. Here officers make preparations: P. Folsom, treasurer; M. Koelle, vice president; B. Cruickshank, president; and D. Gawel, secretary

The Latin Club goes Broadway with its Roman version of Cinderella. At the royal ball King C. Aydelotte and Queen M. Wolf receive their guests: M. Milan, N. Oggiono, L. Connor, and M. Manarina.

Sophomore English class develops a taste for poetry with Sister Miriam Anne and C. Bartko presiding at the record player.

Representing the Debate Club, A. Longo and L. Connor are practicing to argue the affirmative in a radio presentation against P. Certo and J. Bax of Bishop Duffy.

"Oh, for the days south of the border, far from the speed and turmoil of modern living!" sighs amigas M. Wolf to M. McMahon.

Our Library Club performs a great service for Madonna. M. Burns, president, and S. Kirk, vice president, help Sister M. David in keeping good books available.

Calculation is made easy through modern inventions and the agile fingers of B. Cruickshank, P. Glemb, C. Catanese, B. Sliwowski, and J. Marra.

In business math, E. Duignan will graph the salaries of the officers of a corporation, while B. Spadaro supplies her with information.

BUSINESS

Mrs. O'Farrell explains to M. Ventry, M. Barcaro, C. Paul, A. Zeifang, E. Durkee, and S. Pieta that constant repetition is necessary for perfection in typing.

The patio adds a touch of beauty to Madonna, thanks to the Garden Club, represented here by M. Stempien, B. Nenno, and D. Tomaszewski.

Whether you want a bus ticket, a transcript, or just a friendly chat, you can always depend upon Mrs. Cicco to lend a helping hand.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Mrs. Nancy Zaso, Mrs. Katherine Orzulak, and Mrs. Edith Pasche spoil us with their loving and careful attention to our physical needs. Long may they reign in Madonna's cafeteria!

No matter what forces threaten her, V. Homiszczak is determined to make that basket in Madonna's victorious game with Mount Mercy.

We may not be ready for the Olympics, but we do have some talent.

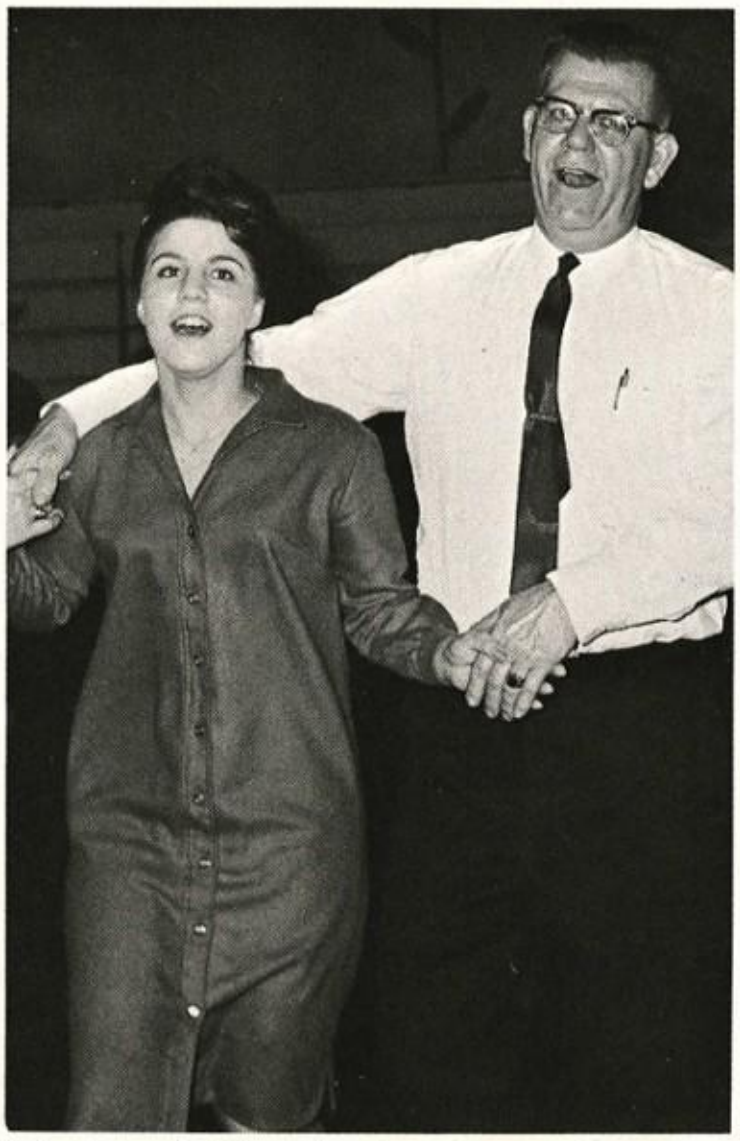
J. Pendergast prepares to rock the baseball world.

Who provides the pep at MHS games? Let's cheer: (first row) C. Hehir, C. Certo, P. Nicolette, S. D'Ambrosio, G. Ross; (second row) P. Fabiano, J. Gazy, D. D'Angelo, M. Quarantillo, and P. LeBlanc.

The officers of our Mothers' Club are planning some new surprise: Mrs. Fred Quarantillo, financial secretary; Mrs. Joseph DiLaura, treasurer; Mrs. Angelo Longo, recording secretary; Mrs. William Biggins, vice president; and Mrs. Robert Perlman, president.

Officers of the Fathers' Club and their daughters survey the guests at the Father-Daughter dance: Mr. William Kennedy, treasurer, Mr. George Amery, vice president, Mr. Richard Webber, president, and M. William McMahon, secretary. (Absent: Mr. Richard Ciurczak, second vice president.)

SINCERE THANKS TO . . .



Norine is proud of her father, Mr. Ervin Lewis, who is typical of hundreds of parents who have enabled their daughters to attend Madonna.

Happy to be back at Madonna as they serve punch and cookies at the Alumnae Christmas party are the Misses Carol Greaser, secretary; Margaret Cuddahee, treasurer; Maueen Raidy, past treasurer; and Sharon Ross, president.

WATCH OUR

ACTIVITIES

Our auditorium resounds with the delightful voice of M. A. Krupa as she sings "O Holy Night."

On the neighboring hillside shepherds hear the message of angels R. Stanek, S. D. D'Ambrosio, and P. Hansen.

CHRISTMAS AT MADONNA

Jolly Old St. Nick and Monsignor Carey seem to be the best of friends. Could it be that they work together to make people happy?

The Incarnation of Our Saviour is one of the most beautiful truths of our faith. No generation seems to tire of hearing its story. There is something magical about the star of the East, the lowly stable, the choirs of angels. Peace and reassurance dwell about the tiny Child, His loving Mother and her spouse. Representing Mary and Joseph here are C. Aydelotte, Sodality prefect, and M. Pellicano, senior class president.

What is Christmas without a chorus? With their voices raised in song we find M. Pellicano, M. McConnaghy, S. Erti, L. Graca, J. Gravelle, K. Deal, M. Normand, R. Stanek, K. Janik, J. Kosut, C. Maloney, N. Lewis, with director C. Hook.

Journalism, photography, typing, and hard work are the ingredients of our school newspaper, The Maryenne. It gives the staff a taste of newspaper activity and acquaints our students with the highlines and bylines of a busy school's activities. Its members must measure up to the requirements of promptness for deadlines, dependability for those extra jobs, originality for the special feature, and perservance for that polished look; their reward is the quarterly newspaper. The Maryenne vies for keen student approval and renders service on many fronts.

Our newspaper is made possible through the efforts of a dedicated staff under the supervision of co-editors C. Dent and M. Wolf.

Typists for the Maryenne, P. Glemb, S. Gigliell, S. D'Ambrosio, and P. Colosi gather around P. Hansen to take a glance at their work in print.

THE MARYENNE

The editorial staff of the Maryenne, L. Heiman, C. Dent, S. Szabo, M. Flaherty, S. Canavan, and K. McAlhaney have gathered under the supervision of M. Wolf to discuss the merits of their latest issue.

THE MADONNA

Photographs, old copy, good copy and a good dose of imagination go into The Madonna. The hard-working editorial staff includes: (first row) A. Marino, S. D'Ambrosio, K. Foggia, S. Amery, J. Paonessa; (second row) L. Connor, A. Splendore, P. Bankowski, C. Gazy and M. McMahon.

M. Flynn is responsible for all the skillful art work in our '64 yearbook.

Mr. Webster defines the word "yearbook" in the following manner—"a book published yearly as a summary of statistics or facts." But to any of the girls who have contributed their time and talents to the publication of the 1964 Madonna, the word "yearbook" possesses an entirely different meaning. To them it is the fulfiillment of a dream which evolved from a conglomeration of pictures, written copy and a rough draft. It is a priceless history of precious friendships and treasured memories brought into existence through the combined efforts of our yearbook moderator, editors, and an indefatigable staff.

Business editor Christine Olejniczak and her staff of typists, including P. Madej, P. Glemb and B. Sliwowski, are busy concentrating on their typing.

Co-editors M. Paonessa and S. Szabo will tell you that this is where the yearbook begins —on the dummy sheet with all the measurements and planning.

The Mexican Hat Dance was popular at "Autumn Magic" presented by the senior class.

Madonna's Sweetest Girls, elected as candidates by the upper classmen, are (top to bottom): K. Deal, M. S. Pellicano, M. Kilcoyne, A. O'Laughlin, K. Gallagher, and P. DiJoseph.

The beauty of the patio by night lured S. Szabo, D. Sorci, A. Splendore and their escorts to a refreshing chat during intermission at Madonna's Senior Dance.

Out of this chaos came the enchanting Italian street scene that set the mood for the Junior Capers.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

Madonna's "Man for All Seasons", Mr. Dussault, poses with L. Beblo, B. Irving, K. Swidergal, M. Szydlowski, K. Mandziak, B. Schreiber, C. Certo and P. Bankowski, eight of 590 admirers.

Mission Club President E. Wolf and Vice President A. Longo make use of the Christmas mail by cheerfully cutting stamps for the Mission Club Stamp Drive.

Madonna begins a new administration with A. Splendore as Student Council president and B. Tato as vice president as the work of their ardent supporters, J. Ottaviani, C. Porreca, M. DelZoppo, and S. Szabo, draws to a close.

"For it is in giving that we receive." A. Splendore gives Reverend Mother Vincentia a check for the foreign missions.

At the Student Council Bazaar Homeroom 110 discovered that Madonna's sweet tooth is strong and healthy.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A close inspection will reveal that Madonna's Student Council is the dynamo of school activities. Through it pass most major requests and decisions which form student body policies. Following parliamentary procedure, this vital organ lends life to the ideals learned as citizens of a democratic republic. Elected representatives from each homeroom and major school organizations freely express their views in an atmosphere of patient understanding which is conducive to progress. Here, faculty and students resolve their problems with comparable ease. The Council develops school spirit through active participation in and promotion of student activities. This organization of Madonna is dedicated to insure the general welfare, both physical and mental, of all the students through uncompromising service and serviceable compromise.

"How much is that doggie in the box?" inquire E. McDonald, A. O'Laughlin, A. Zeifang, and S. Amery.

Mother M. Paracleta and Sister M. Bertille seem to appreciate the hard work and creative ability of M. McCarthy and T. Rachwal.

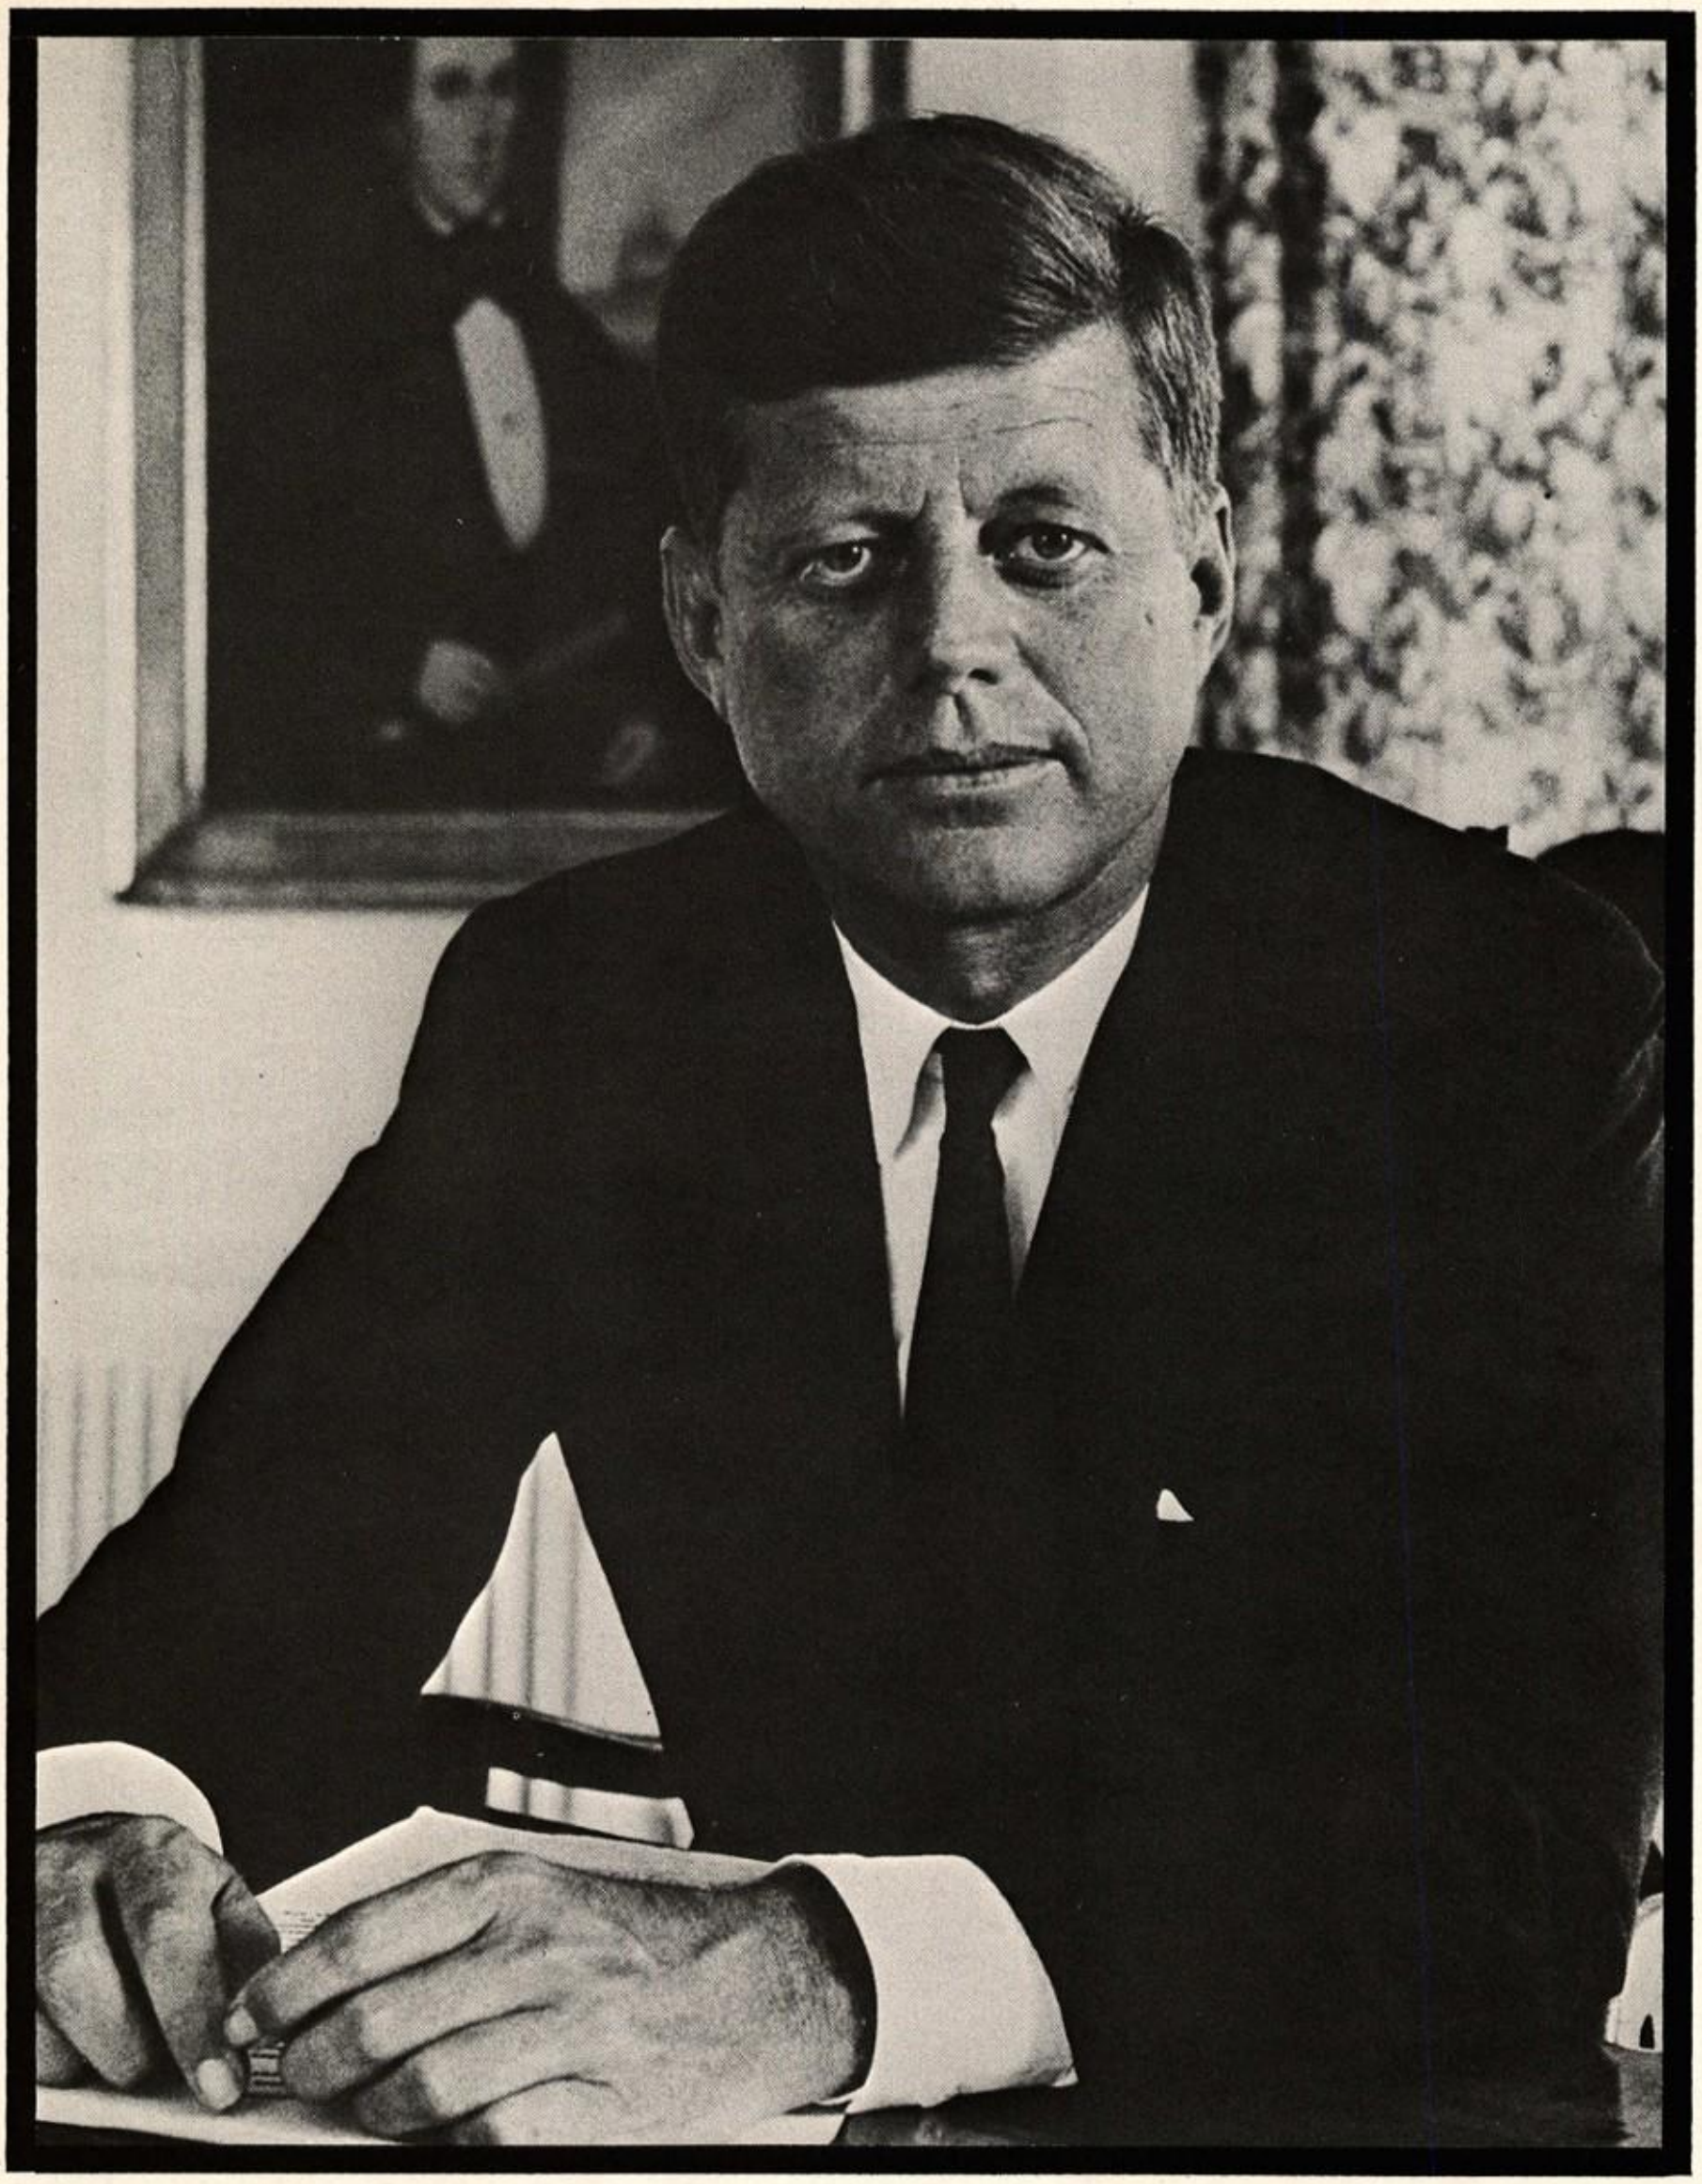
Sodalists M. S. Pellicano, A. Aydelotte, P. Gaffney, B. Sawicki, and E. McDonald are ready to present their panel on Mother McAuley, as Monsignor Carey congratulates M. Flaherty on the reception of her senior pin.

Flowers beautify the altar as C. Aydelotte, prefect, crowns Our Lady.

SODALITY OF OUR LADY

The Sodality of Our Lady is a way of life. It is a sincere devotion to Mary cultivated by Sodalists through the recitation of the Little Office, the rosary, and mental prayer, along with various apostolic works. Although it sponsors social functions, the organization's purpose is that its members attain a close, loving union with Christ through Mother Mary.

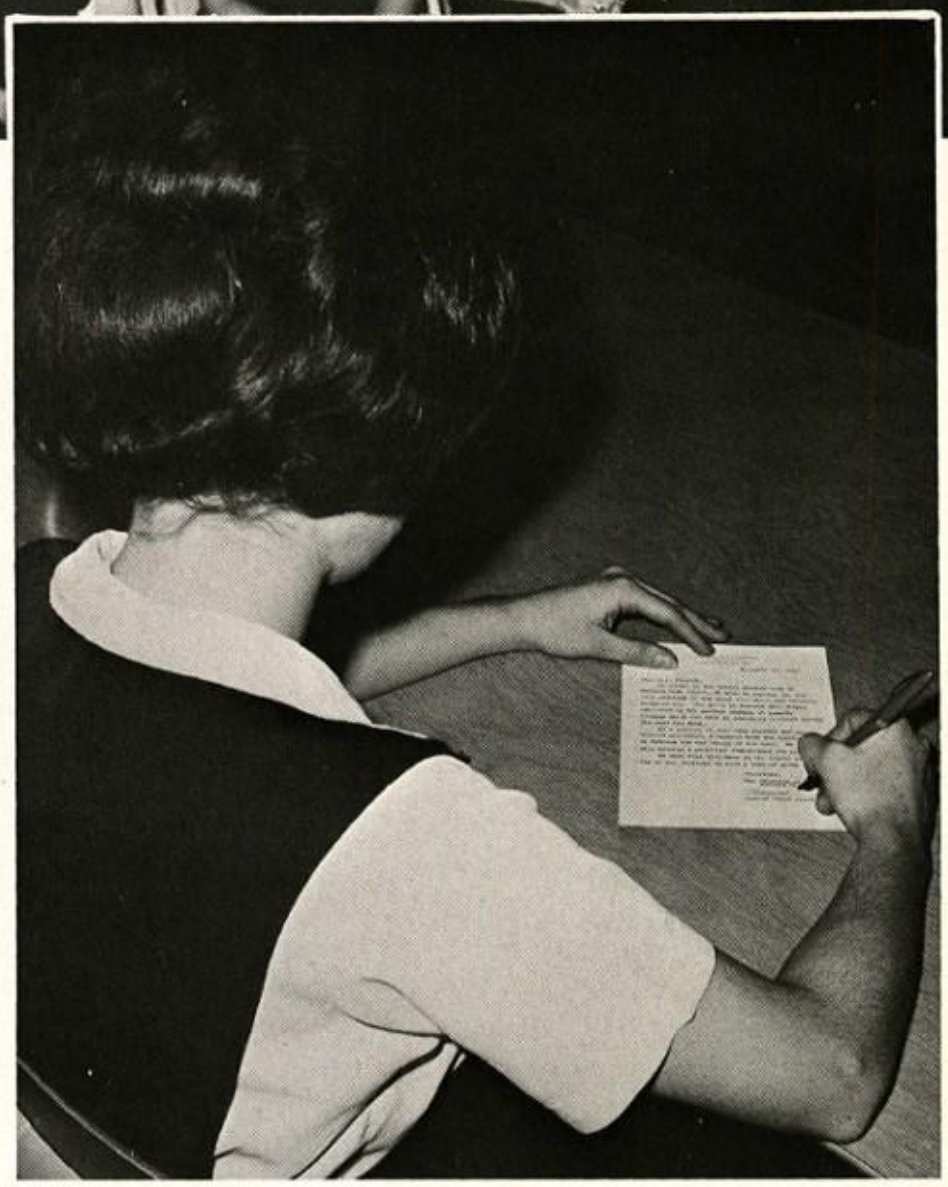
Gay smiles and laughter are the obvious results at a very "swinging" Father-Daughter dance sponsored by the Sodality.



In Memory of our Beloved President

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

1917 - 1963



The assassination of our president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, will remain the most shocking and profound experience of our senior year. Anxiety, disbelief, and prayerful supplication swept in turn through our hushed halls and classrooms on that November afternoon. For us Mr. Kennedy and his courageous wife remain the symbol of all that is finest in young Catholic America. Now "The torch is passed to a new generation. . ." May his great soul rest in peace.

NOVEMBER 22, 1963

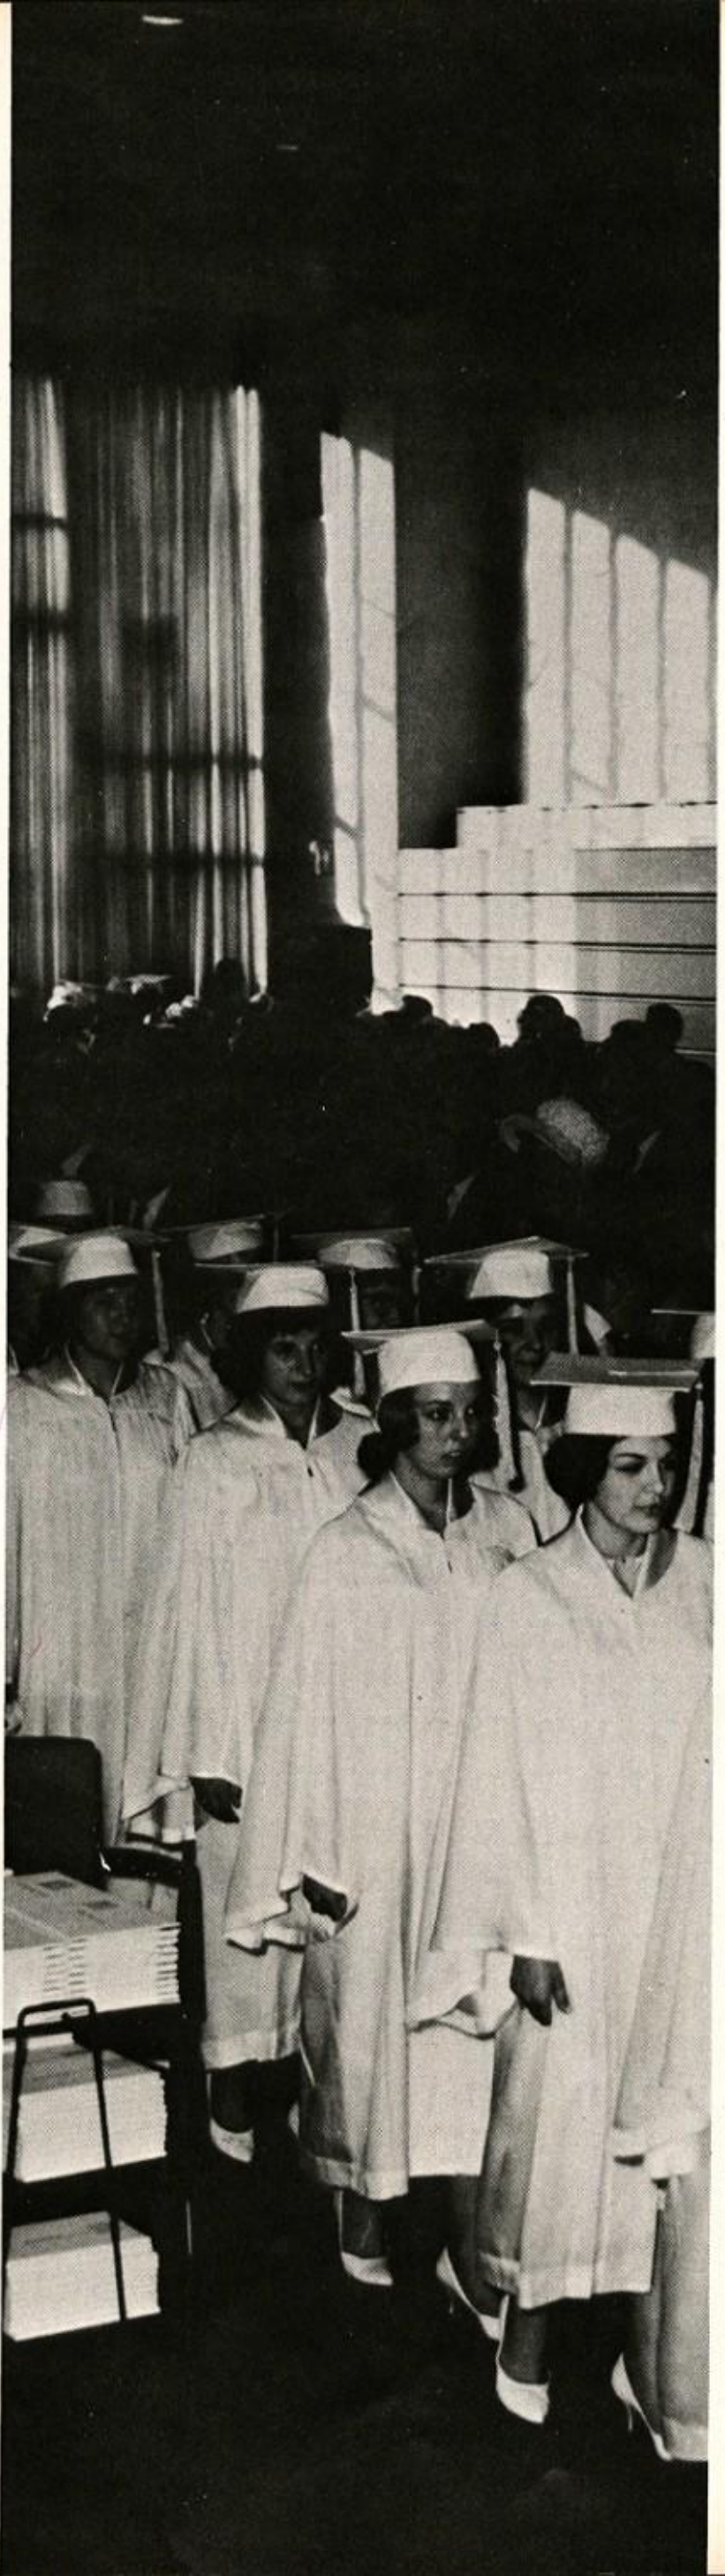
Gala festivities mark the end of the school year for the juniors and seniors. Here old friends meet at the last formal gathering before graduation.

You see, ladies, the ability to remember is utterly unique. The object is to associate the idea to be remembered with something familiar. So say L. Connor, P. Ciurczak, G. Critelli, C. Sirianni, M. Conan, and N. Oggiono.

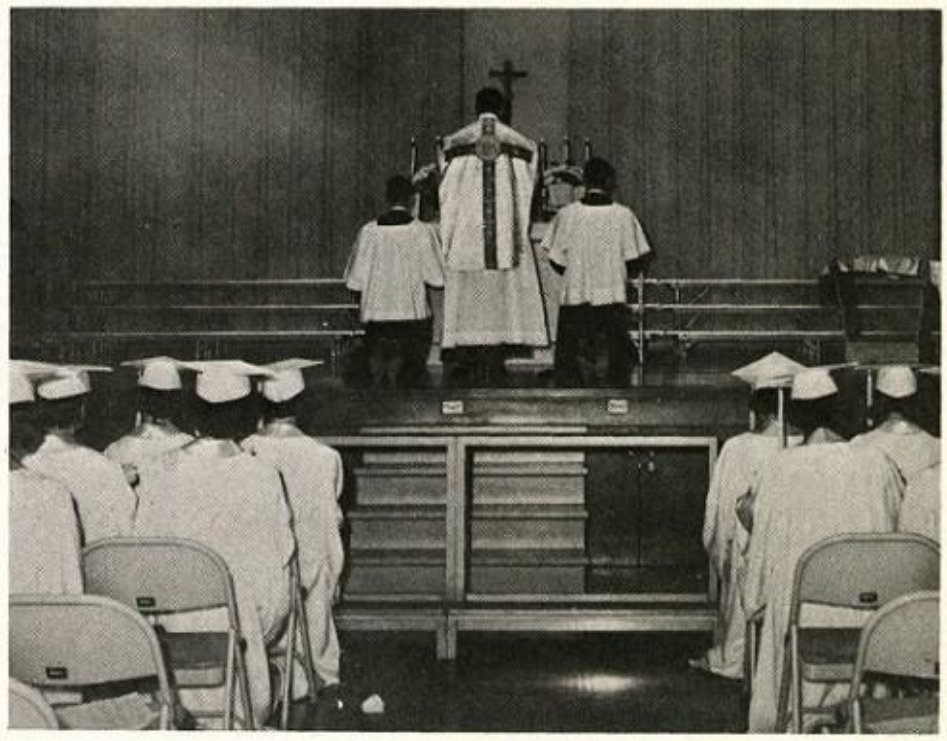
Here ar four seniors who danced their way through Madonna. Their lively and original steps added a spark to our programs: B. Sawicki, M. McMahon, A. Splendore, and S. Szabo.

AND SO, THE SCHOOL YEAR DRAWS TO A CLOSE. EACH CLASS, EACH ACTIVITY HAS BROUGHT US CLOSER TO THE ULTIMATE WISDOM THAT IS GOD. OUR SECONDARY EDUCATION HAS HELPED US TO TREASURE THE WORTHWHILE THINGS OF LIFE. NOW THE LIGHT FROM THE TAPER GLOWS BRIGHT WITH PROMISE. HOW HIGH IS OUR GOAL,— HOW WORTHY OUR QUEST!

Our literary experts, E. McDonald, M. Wolf, and C. Maloney, foretell the future of the Senior Class.



The Reverend Andrew Dunn, O.S.F.S., conducts the graduates' chorus.



The Reverend Alexander Pocetto, O.S.F.S., offers Mass for the intention of each graduate.

Joanne Quaglia receives her diploma from The Very Reverend Msgr. J. Stanly Ormsby, assisted by M. Flaherty and K. Foggia.
